A fine entertainment will be given in East Montpelier hall Thursday evening, July 9, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Brick Church. Readings will be given by the talented young graduate in elocution, Miss Mabel Blanche Stewart, of Berlin. Good music will be furnished by local talent and ice cream and cake will be served. All are invited to the good time. Tickets to all 25 cents; children 15 cents.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

C. E. Ingalls spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Barre.

Mrs. Harry Seaver and little son of Boston are visiting friends in town.

Miss Helen Kimball left today for Maine. She will be away until September.

Quite a number attended the races at Barre Saturday afternoon. Mr. Lynde's chestnut horse won second money in one race.

Frank Godfrey and N. B. Robinson returned Friday night from Camp Martin, Milton, with a good number of fish, one pickerel weighing over ten pounds.

The picnic on South Hill Saturday was a very enjoyable affair. The day was fine and everything went off nicely. There were games of various kinds, base ball, croquet, etc. The young ladies' race was won by Ruth Burnham, men's race by Edward Dutton, wheel barrow race by Lynde Burnham, potato race by Alexander Brothers, Jule and Elmer. Fred McPhee caught the greased pig. Houses orchestra furnished excellent music. The fireworks in the evening were watched by people from quite a distance. It is estimated there were 400 present.

New Trust Companies Will Pay Large Dividends.

For safe and profitable investment put your money in Colonial Paints. When your property needs painting don't make the mistake of investing your hard earned dollars in inferior goods. They are dear in the end.

Colonial paints may be high priced, but they always look right and wear forever. Sold by C. A. Heath in Barre.

THE ROYAL BOX.

On Nov. 15 the king of Denmark will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of his accession, and preparations are already in progress for making the occasion memorable.

Princess Irene of Prussia has more than 4,000 godfathers. She was born as the war of 1890 was closing, and her father, Prince Henry of Hesse, requested his command to stand godfathers to his daughter, whom he named Irene (Peace) in commemoration of the cessation of the war.

The Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, the czar's eldest daughter, who is now in her eighth year, is probably the wealthiest little lady in the universe. At her birth something like £1,000,000 was settled upon her, and it is safely invested in England and France. If she lives to be married her marriage settlement is likely to be the largest on record.
